

DEATH SENTENCE PRONOUNCED ON JUAN RODRIGUEZ STOCK EXCHANGE PRICES HIGHER ON SOME ISSUES

Slayer of Marion Cartwright Will Pay Penalty of His Crime January 7, Unless Supreme Court Interferes.

SPECIAL DISPATCH TO MORNING JOURNAL

BROOKLYN, N. Y., Dec. 11.—Juan Rodriguez, this morning was sentenced to die between 8 a. m. and 8 p. m. January 7. Sentence was pronounced by Justice J. T. McHugh, the first death sentence he has ever imposed and the second in the country.

Immediately after the sentence Rodriguez's attorneys gave notice of an appeal. It was granted and the court stayed its order to stay the execution until the case was passed upon by the supreme court.

Rodriguez will be taken to the penitentiary at Santa Fe for safekeeping meanwhile.

A large crowd was in the courtroom to hear the sentence. The case has attracted more attention in eastern New Mexico than any case ever tried in Chaves County. Rodriguez, after a trial which occupied the court for six days and three nights, only about eight hours of which was used in taking testimony, was convicted of murder in his first degree.

The case started with killing Marion Cartwright, a sheehan, after attacking the man's daughter. The man was found last August. It will be remembered that on the first night of the trial Rodriguez escaped from the sheriff and was sought for 10 days by posse before being captured. The excitement made it so hard to get a jury that 125 men were summoned for service before the twelfth man was picked.

Judge McHugh before passing sentence this morning, reminded Rodriguez that he had been defended by his attorneys and that his rights had been protected throughout. The court appointed attorneys to defend him for the money for the appeal has been raised by subscriptions from the Mexican home, it is said.

Anniversary of Resumption of Dealing, After Close Following Outbreak of War, Featured by Irregular Trading

SPECIAL DISPATCH TO MORNING JOURNAL

New York, Dec. 11.—Not the least interesting feature of today's short session was the fact that it marked the first anniversary of the resumption of dealing on the stock exchange. After the enforced closure of virtually four and a half months, due to the outbreak of the war.

Prices were extremely irregular at the opening. United States Steel fell 7% to 74%, and Canadian Pacific declined 1% to 17%, while war shares were fractionally lower. Speculatives, particularly automobile stocks, Texas Company, Mountain Marine, etc., rose, and some of the more conservative war issues responded to the general trend of improvement. Total sales amounted to $2,150,000 shares.

Anglo-French war bonds were slightly lower, but nominal selling of 15 million was negligible.

A large crowd was in the courtroom to hear the sentence. The case has attracted more attention in eastern New Mexico than any case ever tried in Chaves County. Rodriguez, after a trial which occupied the court for six days and three nights, only about eight hours of which was used in taking testimony, was convicted of murder in his first degree.

The total market was irregular with no essential feature. Total sales, per cent on call during the week:
